BLUJAZZ

GALEN WESTON/Plugged In: A guitar tour de force date like the kind they don't make anymore, this Canadian guitarist was itching to get back in the saddle after being a responsible grown up for several years. Not at all the kind of stuff you get from a wannabe that's been practicing in front of the mirror and wants to dive in with today's tools at hand, Weston has the chops and depth that shows he could have been a monster if he was around when the big boys were there to put a push behind this kind of skillful and soulful instrumental music. Fleetly and nimbly jumping between styles and genres, every air guitarist within 50 miles of this record has a new hero to look up to. Well done.
